

GRANT-FUNDED CLASSROOM-BASED TRAINING

Recognizing Illicit and Abused Drugs for 2025

Presented by:
Bill Loucks, Jr.
Homefront Protective Group, Inc.

William "Bill" Loucks Jr, retired from the Metro Nashville (TN) Police Department and has been training law enforcement officers across the US ever since. He is a nationally recognized drug identification and clandestine lab expert and has testified as a drug expert in local, state and federal courts. Bill has written more than 700 search warrants and been involved in more than 1000 search warrant executions throughout his career. Bill was also the affiant for the 1st successful Google voice wiretap intercept in the United States. Bill is also an experienced narcotics and gang undercover operative. Bill was the case Detective during Tennessee's 2nd successful Overdose/Second-Degree Murder case. Bill has instructed to more than 7,000 students on drugs and gang related topics.

TUITION FREE

Grant will not cover travel/lodging and you will need to make the arrangements on your own.

March 18-19, 2026

Jerome Police Department, 223 1st Ave East, Jerome, ID

This two-day course will expose Illicit and Abused drugs, emerging drugs, drugs which are constantly modified to stay under the radar of the law, and the constant counterfeiting of prescription drugs killing Americans everyday across this country. Officers will learn how to identify and understand the individual hazards that each substance presents from the traffic stop, calls for service, working undercover, or processing a drug-related search warrant. Officers will learn how each substance fits into the five classes under the Controlled Substances Act (CSA) from narcotics, depressants, stimulants, hallucinogens and anabolic steroids. Each officer will build drug paraphernalia props during the course to further their knowledge of how paraphernalia is used.

Name _____

Agency _____

Phone _____

Email _____

POST ID# _____

Send form to: Cathy Weddle, cathy.weddle@post.idaho.gov,
Fax: 208-884-7295 Office phone: 208-884-7321 Cell phone: 209-470-4057